

Commission issues Consultation Paper on the Long Run Incremental Cost Guidelines

The Fair Trading Commission plans to develop guidelines to be used by Cable & Wireless (Barbados) Limited to develop a Long Run Incremental Cost (LRIC) model from which interconnection rates will be derived. The guidelines will define the broad principles to be used in this model.

The Commission invites interested parties, telecommunications service providers and all other stakeholders to review its consultation paper and submit responses.

The consultation paper is available here...