

What is an anti-competitive practice?

A practice is considered anti-competitive if it prevents, distorts or restricts competition in a market for goods and services in Barbados.