

Why are merger control provisions included in the Fair Competition Act?

Merger control provisions are necessary to prevent the effecting of mergers that are likely to cause a substantial lessening of competition and are unlikely to create any real efficiencies that will lead to benefits for consumers in the form of lower prices or better quality products.